

HONORING THE CONTEST "REVIEW BOOK" PHASE 1

Throughout history, our forebears have held books in high esteem, deeming them a priceless legacy passed down from parents to children. World Quotes, too, acknowledges the profound significance of books in one's spiritual life, likening a home without books to a body without a soul. Books are cherished as loyal companions, with a good book considered a steadfast friend that never betrays.

To honor this value and promote a reading culture, the English teaching Group and library of Nguyen Khuyen High School organized a "Writing Contest" for 10th and 11th-grade students. This initiative aimed to provide students with a platform to articulate their thoughts on a book's content, meaning, lessons, and messages, or share their perspectives and aspirations concerning today's youth and their reading habits.

After reviewing over 100 submissions, we are delighted to announce the winners of the first round of awards from November 20, 2023, to January 10, 2024.

The "Writing Contest" has proven to be an exceptionally beneficial platform for students. It serves as a catalyst in fostering students' love for books, igniting a passion for reading, and heightening their awareness of reading culture. The contest also aids in developing the qualities necessary for effective communication and expands their comprehension of valuable books. We hope all participants find success in the upcoming second round of the writing contest.
